Plan That May Have Barred Aid Abroad Banned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee reversed itself today and voted against a provision that might have barred further U. S. foreign aid to many countries.

The committee also came close to voting a billion dollar cut in President Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid bill, but decided to postpone a final decision until next Tuesday.

Chairman Richards (D-SC) announced the committee actions after a closed session.

He said the group voted to knock out an amendment, adopted yesterday, which would bar U. S. assistance to any country shipping to the Communist bloc strategic materials that America itself does not allow to be shipped to the Reds.

Many countries outside the United States have been less strict in their embargoes on strategic shipments to the Reds than the United States has.

Rep. Edna Kelly (D-NY), sponsor of the amendment, said she sponsored it after reading that Great Britain planned certain shipments to the Communists.

Richards did not announce the vote by which the committee reversed itself and knocked out Mrs. Kelly's proposal, which had been expected to be vigorously opposed by the Eisenhower administration.

Still to come is a vote on the three billion dollars in new arms aid President Eisenhower has asked for the fiscal year starting next July 1. That amount is three times what Congress voted for arms aid last year and almost as much as the largest target for congressmen on making cuts in an election year.

The trade restriction amendment, one of a number changing the program Eisenhower asked, could amount to a flat ban on aid to countries making strategic shipments to the Communists.

Richards said its meaning was not clear, however, and he had opposed it on that basis.

He said the amendment would "deny aid to any country permitting exports of strategic materials to Iron Curtain countries which the United States does not permit to be exported to such countries."

The 1951 Battle Act makes similar general provisions, but gives the President authority to make exceptions where national security requires.

Rep. Edna F. Kelly (D-NY) said she sponsored the amendment after reading of a proposed British shipment of tractors to the Communist Chinese and plans for further British sales of strategic goods. She said her aim was to strengthen the present Battle Act by removing the President's power to allow exceptions.

The administration has fought such a flat prohibition in the past, and is expected to oppose its inclusion in the measure.

The committee rejected yesterday Eisenhower's request for authority to commit U. S. aid funds for some projects for as long as 10 years. Instead it included a statement of intention to continue foreign aid as long as there is a Communist menace.

The committee voted only 100 million dollars—half the amount Eisenhower asked—for special economic assistance to the Middle East and Asia. It provided further that these and other economic aid funds be limited to loans or surplus U. S. restricted goods. Their use would be restricted also to countries which have agreed on terms for guaranteeing U. S. investments in those countries.

The committee approved Eisenhower's proposal for a special commission to study the whole foreign aid program.

Chester Lester Shaken Up in Trian, Truck Wreck

Chester Lester was badly shaken up about 1 p. m. today when a pickup truck which he was driving was hit by a Missouri Pacific Passenger Train No. 8 at the Louisiana and Division Street crossing.

Mr. Lester was traveling north across the track and the train was traveling east. The engine hit the front of the truck and knocked it off the track. He is not believed seriously injured and was taken home where shortly after a member of the family said he was just "badly shaken up."

The truck was smashed.

Prison Seeks Ringleaders in Florida Riot

RAIFORD, Fla. (UP) — Prison authorities began questioning dozens of convicts one by one today in a search for ringleaders of a riot that ended in a 15-second fusillade of gunfire from guards.

The volley, fired at 50 foot range into a band of some 75 charging convicts armed with baseball bats and pop bottles, left one prisoner dead and 11 wounded, two of them critically.

Casmir J. Bonis, a wife-deserter from Cross City, Fla., with a long criminal record in Connecticut and New Jersey, died almost instantly.

Warden DeWitt Sinclair said he was not sure what started the riot that involved up to three-fifths of the prison's 2,500 inmates but said the prison had received complaints on its food.

A Negro trustee told newsmen the trouble had been "brewing for a couple of days over too many beans" in the daily fare.

Sinclair and State's Attorney Ted Duncan conducted the investigation. Gov. LeRoy Collins also sent an aide, Joe Grotgeut, to the scene.

Tax Cut Is a Possibility, Says Rayburn

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex.) said today he regards a 1956 tax cut as "a possibility but not a probability" even though the prospective midyear surplus has been boosted by more than 1½ billion dollars.

That seemed the consensus among other congressional leaders in the wake of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey's announcement last night that the June 30 federal surplus is now estimated at $1,828,000,000. The last previous administration calculation, in January, was 230 millions.

Key members of both parties on the House Ways and Means Committee, for the most part supported President Eisenhower's stand for applying any such surplus to paying off the national debt ahead of tax reduction.

Democratic leaders, however, were keeping a sharp eye on future fiscal moves of the Eisenhower administration.

They were ready to move quickly with tax-cutting legislation of their own if the administration should indicate any intention of initiating a tax reduction program.

The new surplus estimate, sent to congressional leaders by Humphrey and Budget Director Percival Brundage, came as no surprise to Capitol Hill, where booming national income and tax receipts had been carefully noted.

Innkeeper of North Carolina Hills Says Generation Needs Much More Work, Less Morry

By HAL BOYLE
BURNSVILLE, N. C. (AP) — The Southern highlands are full of wonderful old ladies with memories as green as a hemlock tree and an outlook on life as durable as an oak.

A fine example is Mrs. Julia Wray, who is 88 years old, weighs 185 pounds, and has 17 rocking chairs on her front porch.

Mrs. Wray, who wears her age as lightly as a summer gown, is the queen bee innkeeper of this part of the Blue Ridge Mountains. She operates the Nu-Wray Inn, one of the best-known hostels in the hills, with the help of her son, Rush, and daughter-in-law, Jane.

The inn, originally built in 1833, was bought by her father in 1870. In the year since then Julia grew up, married, raised five children and, in 1932, became a widow. The inn grew, too, from 8 rooms to 40.

A proud-spirited lady with eyes still as blue as a mountain sky at noon, Mrs. Wray never leaned on anything in her life until recently she had to start using a cane, which she detests. She loves to recall changing times, changing customs, changing prices.

"I first remember when we would put up a man for the night, 185 pounds, and has 17 rocking chairs on her front porch. I would put up a man for the night, 185 pounds, and has 17 rocking chairs on her front porch. I would put up a man for the night, 185 pounds, and has 17 rocking chairs on her front porch."

Today folks often drive a hundred miles for Mrs. Wray's famous $2.50 Sunday dinner, served family style. There is no menu, but no lack of choice.

Here is what the guest usually finds on the table: Hickory smoked country ham, chicken and dressing, rice and gravy, garden lettuce wilted down with bacon dressing, buttermilk.

4 Arrested in Theft of Secret U. S. Documents

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Three businessmen and an Air Force sergeant were arrested by the FBI yesterday in the theft of a secret government document—but a defense lawyer said today it was far from a spy case.

The FBI, in announcing the arrests, gave the case an aura of mystery classification it bore.

The FBI charged the sergeant with stealing the document and the other three with conspiracy. All were released under bond.

But early today, U. S. Commissioner Thomas W. Ciochese, who arraigned one of the businessmen, said he thought the document was "classified list of Army or Air Force personnel."

Later, William Furst, attorney representing the two owners of a uniform and emblem firm, expressed the same view, saying such a list could be used for direct mail solicitation by the firm.

"Apparently they obtained mislabeled lists of military personnel so they could be solicited for uniforms," Furst said. "This has been blown up fantastically into an apparent case of espionage when nothing could be further from the truth."

The third businessman, a snapshot shop operator, said he merely had an employee copy the document Wednesday in a "regular business transaction."

The sergeant is an eight-year Air Force veteran now stationed at the passenger movement division of the Brooklyn Army Terminal.

Sgt. Harold E. Brill, 28, was arrested at the Manhattan Air Force Base, Brooklyn, and charged with the actual theft of the document, which the FBI said has been recovered. It was taken from the Brooklyn terminal, the FBI said.

Denies Killing Husband of His Lover

NWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP) — "So help me God, I didn't do it," declared Arthur G. Jackson, 24, last night as testimony continued to pile up before a grand jury re-investigation the murder of his lover's husband.

Jackson issued the statement through his attorney George Karellitz from his cell in Salem Jail, where he is serving three years for adultery with Mrs. Lorraine Clark, 30.

Mrs. Clark was sentenced to life 18 months ago after she pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree in the shooting death of her husband and father of her three children, Melvin Clark Jr., 29.

Jackson's statement followed a few hours, Mrs. Clark's appearance for the second consecutive day before an Essex County grand jury reconsidering the entire case.

The case was reopened by Atty. Gen. George Fingold, who said he has new evidence implicating "another person." He did not name the "other person."

Mrs. Clark originally said that she, and she alone, killed her husband and dumped his weighted body over a bridge into the Merrimack River not far from the Amesbury lakeside cottage where the Clarks lived.

MAN KILLED
CLARENDON (AP) — Woodrow Beasley of near Forrest City, Ark., was killed yesterday when a tree limb fell on him while he was cutting timber near here. Beasley's skull was crushed. His age was not available immediately.

Loss of the lengthy one-story wooden building was estimated at $10,000.

Cause of the fire was not known.

The Badger company's old plant was destroyed in another fire early last year.

The company, which employed about 100 persons, had just completed a government contract. No one was in the building at the time of the fire. Coade Ray is the owner.

The Badger company, which employed up to 300 persons during the Korean war, had moved to a lumber yard near Highway 71 after the fire in 1955 destroyed its other plant.

OH WOE IS HE
WATROLOO, Iowa. (UP) — Allen Louis Briggs, 27, walked into the police station with no pants on yesterday and wound up confessing a nine-year-old burglary.

Briggs had meant to complain that two men had robbed him of his wrist watch, $400 and his pants but during the questioning police established that he was the man who stole $70 from a Waterloo store in 1948.

$1 Million in Road Work for Hempstead, Push Plans to Pave From Hope to Saratoga

Hope Chamber of Commerce looking forward to the erection of Millwood Dam, today made plans to push for construction of an all-paved highway from Hope to Saratoga.

County Judge U. G. Garrett, in conference with chamber of commerce officials, said that a million-dollar road program was already underway in Hempstead county and that part of it included six and a half miles of paving on the Hope-Saratoga route.

The 6½ mile stretch is from the junction of Highway 4 to the Crossroad community on Highway 73. Work is already underway on this link and is due to be completed this summer.

A new fiscal year begins July 1, and Judge Garrett said he would request the state highway department to program the road from Crossroad on to Columbus and thence to Saratoga, for blacktopping next year.

A second route to Saratoga, Judge Garrett pointed out, is from Fulton on Highway 55 which is a 11-mile stretch scheduled to be blacktopped this summer. Contract has been let and work is now underway.

New Patmos Road
Chamber of commerce officials, seeking blacktop for the Hope-Patmos road, were told by Judge Garrett that a $90,000 project had been set up which includes continuation of paving from the Hope Country Club site for five and half additional miles south toward Patmos.

Work on the Hope-Patmos road will begin within the next ten days, with work scheduled for completion this summer. This is a federal-aid road under state and county supervision. After July 1, Judge Garrett and chamber officials will request programing of the balance of the road for blacktopping next year.

DeAnn to Get Paving
DeAnn community northeast of Hope will be linked with paving this summer with the announcement by Judge Garrett of construction plans calling for 1.1 miles of blacktopping from Highway 29 to the DeAnn community. Work will be started in the next ten days.

Paving for the Hope-Blevins road, Highway 28, was announced several weeks ago, the contract let last month, and work is now underway and due to be completed this summer. Chamber of Commerce officials will join with the Blevins community in the dedication of the road when completed. The project includes 14.5 miles of paving.

Another paving project due to be completed this year is 14.5 miles of blacktop on Highway 24, the McCaskill-Nashville route, rounding out approximately a million dollars in road projects for Hempstead county this year.

To Widen Highway 67
A federal-aid job, which includes part of Hempstead county, is the proposed $600,000 project for widening and re-surfacing Highway 67 from Hope to Prescott, which calls for nine inches of additional asphalt. The contract is expected to be let before July 1.

Another county project under study by the roads committee of the chamber of commerce, is proposed paving from Hope to Bodecaw via Shover springs community. Additional surveys are necessary and more definite information on this project will be announced later.

Fire Destroys Mena Box Plant
MENA (AP) — Fire destroyed the Badger Manufacturing Co., plant here last night. The plant manufactured ammunition boxes for the Army.

Loss of the lengthy one-story wooden building was estimated at $10,000.

Senate Okays Cultrate Sale of U. S. Wheat

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today approved the annual sale of up to 100 million bushels of government owned wheat at cultrate prices for livestock feed.

The vote was 49-31 for the amendment by the Sen. Young (R-ND) to the new substitute soil bank bill.

This was the first action of the day under limited debate on the new farm bill and indicated a long and storm session.

Opposing the proposal on the grounds that it would mean cheap livestock feed and lower prices for corn, oats, barley, rye and grain sorghums were senators from states producing grains other than wheat.

Supporting the proposal were legislators from wheat producing states and states with dairy, poultry and livestock industries.

Earlier, Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) told a reporter he will ask the Senate to revise three sections of the bill "to improve our relations with other countries."

Smith, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said he had offered three amendments to the suggestion of Secretary of State Dulles and State Department advisers.

Debate began yesterday on the measure, a substitute for a catchall farm bill which President Eisenhower vetoed April 16 with the contention that it would do more harm than good.

The current bill, somewhat similar to one already passed by the House, contains authority for the soil bank urged by Eisenhower as a means of cutting surpluses by paying farmers to divert some land to grass, trees and similar uses.

The bill does not contain the authority Eisenhower sought to make advance payments this year to farmers who agree to put land in the soil bank in 1957.

The main Senate dispute centers over provisions to boost government price supports on oats, rye, barley and grain sorghums, which are used as livestock feed. Such provisions were approved by the House and the Senate Agriculture Committee.

In 1956, if the rate continues, about 250,000 Americans will die of cancer. There will be about 500,000 new Cancer Cases, diagnosed for the first time. More than 700,000 will be under medical care for cancer and of every four persons who get cancer, one will die of that disease. No. 1 will be died of that disease. No. 2 will die needlessly because with present knowledge he could have been saved if there had been early detection and prompt treatment. Nos. 3 and 4 will die because their cancers are of types that science has not yet the knowledge to cure.

Our goal in Hempstead County is only $1500. To date only $891 has been received, according to Mr. Sid McMath, Finance Chairman for the 1956 Fund Raising Campaign.

Students Told to Resist Pressure

FAYETTEVILLE (AP) — Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) today urged University of Arkansas students "to resist pressures toward conformity."

Addressing an Honors Day convocation, an event he started 15 years ago as president of the university, Fulbright said this country now has "political leadership above politics."

"The millenium has arrived and it can't be criticized," Fulbright said.

The senator charged that the press, television and radio "are controlled by the most part by a few powerful men." He said only a few communications media "dare to be different and they come and go."

"I hope you continue to be non-conformists by excelling in every task you undertake," Fulbright told the students who received honors at the convocation.

He warned that the "slightest variance is cause for suspicion" and said "any idea that is different is suspect and may even bring an investigation by Congress."

In this type of climate, Fulbright said, originality and diversity are eliminated.

Mother of Slayer Tells of Boy's Life

GALVESTON, Tex. (UP) — The mother of confessed triple slayer Ellis E. Lauhon Jr. testified at his sanity hearing last night that Lauhon had a "very unhappy and lonely childhood" and was subject to "trembling spells and blackouts."

She was due to return to the stand today.

Lauhon's father, Ellis E. Lauhon of Ozark, Ark., and his attractive sister, Mrs. Patricia Morton, 23, were the only witnesses yesterday besides the mother. They both testified about strange incidents in the young airman's past.

Mrs. Morton said she felt she was the only one in the family very close to her brother. She said he told her he had put up a "big front" before his father.

As a boy, she said, Lauhon "lived in a dream world. He was very docile, and even small children would push him around."

She was called by Lauhon's lawyers in an effort to prove that he was insane at the time he is accused of murdering Mrs. Ruby McPherson, 44, her son George, 12, and her mother, Mrs. Zola Norman, 71.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that family and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to lead the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

This is a day of reckoning. This is a day of exactness. This is a day when every man must stand up and be counted. Whether you are a watchmaker or a grinder of high-powered lenses... you've got to be good. God demands our best. He is not satisfied with average products. To be out of measurement means the whole of what you are doing is useless. Precision grinding is expected of you if you are to be trusted with the operation of this highly efficient machine. Spiritual Precision is necessary if you are to walk with God.

We also are to work in the field of sensitive minds, hearts, nerves and spirits. This is the realm of spiritual and eternal values. Flesh and blood persons are to be dealt with. Am I as careful in moulding the life of a child as in creating a watch, or a lens, or a pilotless plane? There is no better place to learn of the fundamental workings of God than at the little Church on the corner. Here, you will hear the Master Workman, as he says, "Inasmuch as you did it unto one of the least of these, you did it unto me."

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Acts 11:26 tells us that "the disciples were called Christians in Antioch."

We are not told by whom they were called Christians. Was it by the disciples themselves?

In recognition of their allegiance to Jesus of Nazareth as the Christ?

Or was it a term of derision accorded them by the denizens of a corrupt and licentious city?

I assume that it was the former, as the name is associated with the coming of Barnabas from the church at Jerusalem, the seeking of Paul at Tarsus, and the continuance of these great leaders for a year with the bringing of him to Antioch newly named disciples (Acts 11:26).

"Christian" was the name by which all future disciples of the Nazarene were to be known — a very proper and honorable name. But it might well have been a term of contempt if the people at

Antioch had deemed to take any notice of a small group so strangely in contrast with their environment.

Perhaps it was not an accident that the disciples were first called Christians in Antioch. If they had been first called Christians in Rome, it might have been a symbolic challenge of the Christian imperialism of St. Paul to the imperial world power of Rome.

But in Antioch the challenge was to something deeper and more appalling in its hold upon humanity—the power of evil — a power which is still the greatest menace of our own times.

Of all the ancient cities of its time, Antioch in Syria (to be distinguished from Antioch in Pisidia, Acts 13:14), perhaps more than any other city represented the many splendored worldly glory of paganism. Situated on the navigable Orontes River, 14 miles from the Mediterranean coast, it was one of 37 cities founded by Seleucus Nikator (B. C. 312-280), who secured most of what Alexander the Great had conquered, founding a dynasty that lasted for 247 years.

Of these 37 cities, 16 were Antiochs, and the greatest of these was the Antioch of which we are speaking. A city of probably half a million inhabitants, it was 300 miles north of Jerusalem. It secured the vast flow of trade between East and West that had once gone farther south. It was prosperous and magnificent.

Its splendor is almost indescribable and unbelievable. From east to west of the city, in a straight line, ran a fine corridor of five miles, with double colonnades, under which the people could walk with protection in wet weather.

The great board walk at our Atlantic City would seem like a plaything in comparison. The temple and public buildings were in similar splendor. Anticipating by ages our sculptured, Mount Rushmore, in South Dakota, Mt. Sulpis was hewed by the sculptor, Lejos, into a vast statue of Charon, the ferryman of the Styx.

But Antioch's moral condition, amid all this splendor, was such that when Rome's moralists would describe Rome's moral degradation, they were wont to say that "the Orontes had overflowed the Tiber."

Could there have been a greater challenge to all that Christianity had to offer? Or a greater faith and and daring than of those who in such an environment called themselves Christians?

Antioch had deemed to take any notice of a small group so strangely in contrast with their environment.

Perhaps it was not an accident that the disciples were first called Christians in Antioch. If they had been first called Christians in Rome, it might have been a symbolic challenge of the Christian imperialism of St. Paul to the imperial world power of Rome.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Any money the now voided state Motor Vehicle Commission has on hand when it closes up shop will go to 531 automobile dealers and 1,240 salesmen who paid fees to the commission.

The Arkansas Supreme Court recently said that the 1955 act setting up the commission to regulate franchised dealers and their salesmen was unconstitutional.

State Treasurer J. Vance Clayton asked for a ruling on who was to get the money which had been paid in fees to support the commission.

Chancellor Sam Rorex ruled yes.

biscuits, a salad plate, cole slaw, vine-ripened tomatoes, and—
Green peas, home-baked beans, corn pudding, candied yams, mashed potatoes with Cheese, summer squash, turnip greens, navy beans, corn bread, country butter, apple butter, and—

Watermelon rind pickle, chow chow, sourwood honey, blackberry jam, homemade pie, buttermilk, sweet milk, iced tea, coffee, ice cream and fluffy homemade chocolate layer cake.

Guests often make a game of sampling everything on the table, and this pleases Mrs. Wray.

"Young people don't look too bad if they're a mite thin," she said. "But older people don't look so well unless they have a little flesh on them."

"People used to work harder in the old days. They were out in the open air more, and their stomachs could digest an iron wedge."

"I don't think people are as healthy and well now as when I was young. We didn't seem to have all these new modern diseases and viruses."

Mrs. Wray has an idea this generation would feel better if it worked harder and worried less. She herself usually still gets into the kitchen each morning before the help arrives. She puts up hundreds of jars of fresh fruits and vegetables — "I never used store-bought preserves in my life" — and supervises the smoking and dipping of 300 country cured hams each year.

When I asked her the secret of her vigorous serenity at 86, Mrs. Wray looked surprised that anyone should think achieving the age of 86 was in any way remarkable.

"Why, I always done my part," she observed mildly, "but I was always the sickly one in my family."

Mountain people are instinctively modest and honest. A puzzled expression came over Mrs. Wray's fine, sturdy, time-lined old face as she mentally reviewed her long lifetime to see if she deserved any personal credit for her longevity.

"Maybe," she remarked, her eyes softening, "I was left here for a purpose I don't understand." In the mountains God always gets his due.

DOROTHY DIX

Parents Are a Problem
Give Him Competition!

Dear Dorothy Dix: My mother and father live in another state and are not well at all. My husband and I have a new house and could easily add a two-car garage with an apartment for my parents. But mother's is not one to concentrate on her own affairs. We have different ideas about housekeeping, child rearing and enjoyment of leisure. She would immediately try to make my household conform with her notions. She would want to be present whenever we had company, the children's noisy play would upset her and know there would be a complete end to privacy in our home. I know she'd with, too, as I have always preferred giving in to having a scene.

I'm an only child and feel I'm being criticized for leaving folks alone. They're not destitute by any means, but can't fend for themselves as they once did. They love us deeply, as we love them. What mother would really like to move in, take over the children, and have me go to work. This is out, as my place is with the youngsters.

Dear Lisabette: Since there is no urgent need for you to move your folks, it seems best to leave them where they are, and stop worrying over "What people will say." No matter what course one takes, there are always those who criticize.

When you reach the point where a decision must be made, create a completely independent living unit for your family. Get your mother interested in your church, or some local charity, have the mothers of your friends meet her, and make a definite distinction between your home and hers. Of course she'll be hurt, but entertaining these new acquaintances, or helping out on some committee, will provide enough interest to serve as an antidote.

It's very difficult for a woman who has managed her own household to step into second place, but the transition has to be made and the more gracefully it's done, the better for everyone. When older parents can maintain separate living quarters, as yours can, they should be very thankful.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm very much attracted to Johnny, a boy who lives in our building. He is nice to me when we meet coming in or out of the house, but doesn't ask me out. I've refused many dates because I just don't care for anyone else. My friends and family think I'm silly.

Dear Frances: You are being rather silly to give up all social activities for the faint hope that Johnny will break down and ask for a date. If he sees you going out with someone else, his interest may be whetted. Try it.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I maintain a correspondence with many friends, both male and female. My husband objects to this, yet he sees every letter I get and write.

LONESOME
Dear Lonesome: Is all your correspondence causing friction, or just the male portion? Is domestic harmony worth more than a few letters? That's about the size of it.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My girl friend's 25-year-old brother has quite a crush on me, but since only 16, I think he's too old for me. I like him very much but only as a friend.

Dear Serena: If necessary, have your father gently tell the impetuous young man that his intentions should be put on ice for a few years. If he likes you well enough, he'll wait.

What does a tourist (or an industrialist) SEE in Arkansas?

A tourist, according to Webster, is "one who travels from place to place for pleasure or culture." How is Arkansas compared by the experienced tourist? Are our parks the best? Have the trees been trimmed along our scenic highways opening to view our mountains, rivers and valleys? Are our tourist accommodations modern and clean? Is the native culture and history of our people easily found and attractively presented? Have we specialized in good food? Are our highways free of commercial slums? The tourist industry brought $200,000,000 into Arkansas in 1935. How much more could it bring?

Boston's Parnell Out for a Month

BOSTON, (AP) — Red Sox veteran lefthander Mel Parnell will be out of action for at least a month. Mel got the word yesterday from Dr. Ralph McCarthy after arriving here from Detroit for treatment of a severely sprained left ankle he acquired sliding into second base at Detroit Wednesday.

Parnell was immediately put on the disabled list for the required 30-day minimum to bring the Red Sox roster to within the legal limits.

Dr. McCarthy said hardluck Mel would probably be able to walk without artificial aid in about 10 days. He's using crutches now.

Mt. Zion Visits BeBe

Sunday night May 20th at 7:30 the Mt. Zion C. M. E. Church and the BeBe congregation will again unite in a regular 3rd Sunday night union service at the BeBe Church, 412 North Hazel St. Rev. I. M. Manning the pastor of Mt. Zion will be the guest of the Rev. C. S. Stearns. Last month on the third Sunday night the largest attendance ever to be recorded were present with the Rev. Stearns at the Mt. Zion Church. One of the interesting features of these exchanges of pulpits between these two ministers and their congregations is that they have attracted the interest and support of many other people who are not a member of either church.

The boy preacher James Edward McDonald who preached his first sermon last Sunday night will have a part in this union service Sunday night. The Mt. Zion membership will follow their pastor in large numbers this Sunday night in appreciation of the fine support and attendance the BeBe Church gave them last month.

The general public is cordially invited to witness and enjoy this fellowship service. The choirs of both churches will sing jointly with Mrs. Edna Spearman at the organ and Miss Bobbie Graham at the piano, directed by Rev. C. S. Stearns. The first thirty minutes of the services will be conducted by the stewards of the two churches.

Thought For The Day

It is great to have friends when one is young, but indeed it is still more so when you are getting old. When we are young, friends are, like everything else, a matter of course. In the old days we know what it means to have them. (Edward Grieg.)

The Lonoke Chorus of Texarkana, Ark., will render a musical program May 27, at the Macedonia Baptist Church 2 p. m. Rev. H. W. Watson, Pastor. There will be no admission. The public is invited.

Christian Union Club To Hold Meeting
The Christian Union Community Club will meet May 31st at the regular meeting place at 7:30 p. m. All members are asked to be present and on time.

Services at St. Mark Baptist Church Sunday May 13th was splendid. The Pastor Rev. E. N. Glover was absent due to an appointment to preach the Commencement services at the Elevins Training School. The Rev. V. L. Loudermilk carried out the services. A very nice crowd attended. The message was found St. John 11:3. Subject "If You Need Jesus Send For Him." The Rev.

Sugar Ray, Bobo Battle Tonight in Title Fight

BY JACK STEVENSON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson, the dancing man who proved fighters can come back, goes after another quick knockout over Carl (Bobo) Olson tonight as he defends his reclaimed title against the ex-champ.

Although Robinson has been installed as favorite, most experts feel his best chance lies in a kayo during the early rounds.

The outdoor battle scheduled for 15 rounds or less starts will be held in Wrigley Field.

NBC will televise nationally at 10 p. m., EDT, with southern California blacked out.

Gate receipts were expected to be in the neighborhood of $175,000 with an additional $75,000 for radio and TV rights. Each fighter collects 30 per cent. Wet or dry, the bout is scheduled to go on, with a canopy over the ring if necessary.

Robinson's knockout punch turned out the lights for Bobo in the second round last Dec. 9 at Chicago as the Harlem dandy took back the crown he'd given up with a retirement announcement 31 months before. That was when he embarked on a professional dancing tour.

Robinson, 35, and Olson, 27, have met three times. Bobo lost twice by knockouts and once by a decision. This time there's a feeling that the longer the fight continues the greater the chance of the younger, body-socking Olson.

Sugar Ray maintained, however, "I have never been in better condition for a fight in my life. I have trained to go 155 rounds if I have to, but I will try to trick Olson into an opening so I can score an early knockout."

Olson says with some confidence that despite the three losses to the champ he feels he can whip him this time.

"I've trained harder for this one than for any other since winning the title," he says.

Robinson has fought 149 pro fights dating back to 1940 and has lost only four. Olson, whose professional career started in 1945, has gone to the wars 73 times, winning 65 and losing 8. He has stopped 33.

Sports writers indicated a bout for Robinson by about 2-1.

Two teams tied for second with identical rounds of 34-31—65. The pairs were composed of pro Charlie Isom and Billy Zimmermann, both of Little Rock, and pro Pat Abbott of Memphis and Billy Joe Denton of Wilson, Ark.

Now Far, Fast Is Question About Needles

By GOERGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP)—How far and how fast Needles will have to come in about the last quarter of a mile in order to catch the leaders seems to be the main question hovering over tomorrow's $100,000 Preakness.

It is being taken for granted that the Kentucky Derby winner help of Jackie Collum.

Bobie Landrith, the former Cincy catcher, drove in three runs for the Cubs, two with a bases-loaded single off reliever Luis Arroyo in a three-run sixth. Ron Kline was the loser while Russ Meyer won his first with relief help.

Ford, working his sixth straight complete game, walked only one and didn't allow a run for the Yankees, who got the job done with six runs in the fourth. Starter Jack Harshman was the loser as the Sox staff, with three straight complete games, fed five pitchers to the Yanks. New York, shaking its slump at the plate, had 2 hits, including Yogi Berra's 11th home run.

Tom Brewer was sailing along toward his second straight shutout over the A's until he pulled a leg muscle in the ninth. The A's then got their run off reliever L. C. Kieley. Mickey Vernon gave Brewer a quick lead toward his fourth victory against one defeat with a three-run homer in the first off Troy Herriage.

It begins to look more and more as if the two major league pennant races are a pair of three-team affairs.

In the National, it's Milwaukee, St. Louis and Brooklyn. In the American, it's New York, Cleveland and Boston—although the Red Sox may hold only half a share of the third contender's entry along with the Chicago White Sox.

The Braves, with Warren Spahn looking like his old self and Hank Aaron finally belting the ball, retained their slim edge over the Cards by thumping the New York Giants 7-3 last night while St. Louis, loaded with four of the NL's top 10 sluggers, put down the suddenly ambitious Philadelphia Phillies 5-4. Brooklyn wasn't scheduled.

In the only other NL game, Chicago's Cubs finally won on the road, knocking Pittsburgh 4-1.

The New York Yankees upped their AL lead, snapping the White Sox's six-game winning streak 10-3 while left-hander Whitey Ford won his sixth straight without defeat. Boston closed to within half a game of the third-place White Sox by battering Kansas City 6-1 in the only other game played.

Spahn won his third straight against one defeat with great control. He did a near-perfect job of scattering eight New York hits and didn't walk a man. Two singles in the third out his scoreless string at 21 2/3 innings and Don Mueller followed Willie Mays' double with a home run in the ninth to score New York's runs.

The Braves, banging five extra base blows among their 10 hits, put the game away in the seventh on four runs, with Aaron poling a long triple to drive in half of them. Aaron also had a double and Del Crandall homered for the Braves. Ruben Gomez suffered his second defeat in three decisions.

The Cards, 27 percentage points behind the Braves, remained the won-lost leaders as Ken Boyer, upping his average to .418, swatted a home run, double and three singles and drove home three runs. Harvey Haddix, the ex-Cardinal, was the victim while Ellis Kinder won his first in relief of Wilmer (Binegar Bend) Mizell with the

Scientist Admits Spying for Russia

BY ALVIN SPIVAK

WASHINGTON, (INS)—A Russian scientist has told Senate investigators that the Soviet police "thousands" of U.S. Army Signal Corps secrets to him in Moscow in 1944.

His testimony was made public today after a Newark, N. J., chemist told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee of his own spying for the Soviets—out of "fear" that Red agents would kill him if he broke away.

The testimony on radar and other American electronic data flowing to Russia during World War II came from a witness, who testified secretly Wednesday under the name of "Eandryve."

Subcommittee Chair, Counsel Robert Morris, who read the testimony into the record, told newsmen later that it was not the real name of the witness, who he said, could not appear publicly for "security" reasons.

Disclosure of his testimony followed the public questioning of Louis L. Black, of Newark, on Communist espionage activities in the 1930's and 1940's.

Black, named by Harry Gold as the man who started him on the road to atomic espionage, said he became "disaffected" from communism in 1936 but kept up contacts with Soviet agents for another 10 years because he was "afraid" he would be harmed.

The subcommittee "commended" him for his testimony and Morris assured him he would "get better protection" through having "come out in the open" than if he had kept his "anonymity."

Black, who admitted having introduced Gold to a Soviet agent in the early 1930's, said he himself was a member of the Communist Party only from 1931 to 1933.

He said he quit the party because he wanted to travel to the Soviet Union and was told by a Russian spokesman in New York that he could not do so as a Communist. He did not say this point.

The witness said that Red agents at Amory, the Russian trading office in New York, told him he would have to show his "usefulness" to Russia by cooperating in other ways. And that, he said, was

Pro-segregation Group Plans

LITTLE ROCK (H)—More than 100 men met here yesterday at the personal invitation of Gov. Orval Faubus and laid plans for getting two pro-segregationist measures on the November general election ballot.

Faubus unqualifiedly endorsed the proposals, inspired by the U.S. Supreme Court's decisions on racial integration in schools, calling them "the best measures yet devised in the nation to meet the problem."

He said the governor's office in the Capitol would be temporary headquarters for receiving and processing signed petitions to get the measures to a vote.

FOR LEASE
